TALKED ON FRIAR LANDS

RECEIVES DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF JURISPRUDENCE.

Washington, June 18 .- President Taft made a flying trip through southeast-Washington at 7 o'clock this morning and returned to the White house short-ly before 10 o'clock tonight.

The President spent three hours at Villa Nova, Pa., where he received from St. Thomas college the degree of doctor of jurisprudence, and where he delivered an address in tribute to the work of the Augustinian fathers in the Philippines and had something to say of the friar lands. The President is now A. B., LL.D., D. C. L. and J. D.

From Villa Nova the President journeyed to Westchester, thence to the negro institution at Lincoln university. Pennsylvania, and made the last speech of the day from the car at Oxford.

Pennsylvania, and made the last speech of the day from the car at Oxford.

In the midst of his journeyings, Mr. Taft found time to "talk a little politics" with Senator Penrose, whom he summoned to his car at Philadelphia. The interview between the President and Senator Penrose was regarded in Philadelphia as of significant import. but neither would discuss what happened. None of Secretary Knox's colleagues in the cabinet, however, believe he will resign to become Republican candidate for governor. The President is said to hold the same view.

At Lincoln university, the President spoke briefly of the negro educational problem, expressing his view that it is along industrial lines that the education of the race must be developed.

But his popularity was short lived, especially among the editors of the Nationalist press, for on the following day he made his sensational speech at the University of Cairo, denouncing the assassination of Boutros Pasha Ghali, the premier, who had been murdered but a month before by a Nationalist sympathizer. He said that the assassin stood at the pinnacle of infamy, and that "those who are apologizing for or condoning his act occupy the same bad eminence."
